MIRROR N O W

Bengaluru flooding: Security guard electrocuted while trying to start generator in flooded basement

The deceased identified as Pepu Kumar Sahu worked as a security guard in Hulkul Ascent apartment on Levelle Road. The victim's elder brother said he holds Pepu's building owner and employer responsible for the accidental death.

Mirror Now Digital Updated Sep 8, 2022 | 07:53 AM IST

Cars parked in basement submerge as heavy rains trigger flood in Bengaluru
Photo : Mirror Now Digital

Bengaluru: In a tragic incident reported from Karnataka capital Bengaluru, a security guard lost his life after he was electrocuted in a flooded basement. The incident took place at an apartment on Lavelle Road on Monday when deceased was trying to start a generator in the basement.

The victim has been identified as Pepu Kumar Sahu. He worked as a security guard in Hulkul Ascent apartment on Levelle Road. The man died at the basement of the Hulkul building, according to an FIR filed at Cubbon Park police station.